

Site Bologna, Italien

Succession for the Management (m/f/d)

For over 60 years, SynFlex has always been where electricity becomes movement or movement becomes electricity. We provide the basis for the megatrends of the electrical industry - such as the generation of renewable energies, intelligent and decentralized power grids and the major topic of e-mobility.

For our subsidiary in Bologna, Italy, we are looking for a successor for our management (m/f/d) as soon as possible.

Your responsibilities:

- Direct cooperation with the management with a focus on strategy and business development
- Collaboration in the definition and implementation of long-term corporate development in close coordination with management.
- Independent project work, especially in the field of sales.
- Conceptual development and implementation of sales and marketing strategies.
- Carrying out market analyses.
- Preparation of and participation in internal and external meetings.
- Work on the annual financial statements, annual planning and internal reporting to the parent company.
- Successive personnel management.

We offer you:

- Great creative and implementation opportunities, short decision-making paths in a family-owned company geared towards sustainable growth and success
- A company that supplies the industries and megatrends of the future, such as e-mobility, renewable energies and grid infrastructure
- A responsible position with exciting prospects in a family business that is focussing on sustainable growth and success.
- Personalized training on site in Bologna, at the headquarters in Blomberg, Germany, as well as at other international locations of the group.
- Attractive remuneration package with performance-related component and company car for private use.
- Product training and further education
- Versatile tasks, variety and challenges
- Appreciative corporate culture
- Flat hierarchies and short decision-making processes
- Secure, modern workplace

Your profile:

- Degree with an economic or technical focus.
- Sound professional experience in a leading position, for example as a branch manager, preferably in an international company.
- Experience in selling products that require explanation.
- Proven technical understanding.
- Business fluent in Italian and English (good knowledge of German is an advantage).
- Reliability, personal initiative, independence and assertiveness.
- Ability to work in a team, flexibility and organizational skills.
- Willingness to travel at home and abroad.
- Confident handling of PC application software (MS Office).

Interest

Please only send your informative, written application documents to karriere@synflex.de. For telephone enquiries, please contact Dr. Henning Martens, +49 (0)5235 968-0.

SynFlex Elektro GmbH, Auf den Kreuzen 24, 32825 Blomberg, www.synflex.com